

Media Release

11 February 2012

Give a truly heartfelt gift this Valentine's Day

If you're looking for a truly heartfelt gift this Valentine's Day, the National Heart Foundation of Australia could have the answer.

"Roses and chocolates might last a week, but making a donation to the Heart Foundation can help protect your loved one's heart for life," said Dr Lyn Roberts, National CEO of the Heart Foundation.

"Stand out from the crowd this year by giving a Valentine's Day gift that truly comes from the heart.

"Visit heartfoundation.org.au to make your Valentine's Day donation and show your loved one that their heart really is your most precious possession.

"Valentine's Day donations will help the Heart Foundation fund critical research and community projects to improve awareness, prevention and treatment of heart disease.

"This year we are investing the equivalent of $1 million a month in cardiovascular research to fight heart disease and improve the heart health of all Australians.

"As a charity, the Heart Foundation relies on the generous support of the community to continue our lifesaving work," she said.

For more information about Valentine's Day donations, visit www.heartfoundation.org.au

– ends –

For more information please contact:

Kerry Kalcher, PR Projects Manager

02 9219 2433 / 0401 672 128 / kerry.kalcher@heartfoundation.org.au